Remember as children
You carried dreams
You carried them everywhere
Hoping you were their seeds
Hoping you were their seeds

Remember as children
You carried dreams
You carried them everywhere
Hoping you were their seeds
Hoping you were their seeds

Well, some of us are hardened
by the being beat up
By the violence that denies us our innocence

Well, some of us are hardened
by the being beat up
innocence

And others of us are hardened
By the pact that our lives are
With systems of privilege saying
What's mine is all mine it's not ours
What's mine is all mine it's not ours

And others of us are hardened
By the pact that our lives are
With systems of privilege saying
What's mine is all mine it's not ours
What's mine is all mine it's not ours

There's a crack in the hard places,
Defended too much.
There's a tear in the nation,
Though there always was.
There always was

There's a crack in the hard places,
Defended too much.
There's a tear in the nation,
Though there always was.
There always was

I see you crying,
I see your tight fist
We are all divided and bound
By the lie, we need ways out

So Come Spirit Wild
Come, claim our hearts
Raise us in body
Chart our new course in love
Chart our new course in love

Can we look at ourselves, notice the hardening?
Can we lay our defenses down, and instead let the child lead?

So come spirit wild
Come claim our hearts
Raise us in body
Chart our new course in love

Come spirit wild
Come claim our hearts
